Our Photograph Gallery is now

instructions were plain: "Spare nothing; get everything; do everything that can be done to insure the finest work."

Then, when these instructions had been, carried out, we said further: "The finest photographs that can be made must be sold here at a popular price, and the customer must have a free choice of sittings. Whether money is made or lost on this branch of the business is a matter of little importance. But the department must win a reputation." The result is that we make a beautiful cabinet photograph, satin finish, choice of three sittings, for
